While passing the farm of John Campbell one of them lighted a cigarette and carelessly threw the match down by the roadside. After going a short distance he happened to look back and saw the grass on fire. The boys returned at once and attempted to check the flames, fighting manfully till their tongues almost lolled. A number of men came to their aid and they succeeded in keeping the fire from the hay stacks, but about 80 rods of fence belonging to Mr. Campbell and M. J. Ross, was burned. Hereafter the boys will be more careful with their matches.

Lucky.

In the distribution of town lots last week by S. M. Pickler, proprietor of the "Famous Bargain Store," Jesse Snyder held the lucky number. He purchased a suit of clothes for $5.50 which entitled him to a ticket in the drawing and he is now the possessor of a fine lot worth $100.00. We are informed that another good lot is to be given away soon. This generous method of doing business is rapidly gaining custom for the Bargain Store. New goods for fall trade, bought before prices advanced, are already arriving and notwithstanding the short corn crop, we predict a big trade for the proprietor during the fall and winter.
